MAY BAR NEGRO CONSUL.

Department Seeking Suitable Post for Successful Colored Man.

The case of Benjamin Bunday, a negro of Cincinnati, who passed seventh in the entrance examination for the consular service, has raised the question of admitting negroes to that service, in the State Department.

He was offered the position of secretary of legation in Liberia recently by the department, but declined because he desired to go into the consular service. The problem still faces the department, as by his examination he is entitled to some position, and the department is on the lookout for some consular position among his own race.

Want Madriz to Recognize Their Bills on Estrada.

MAY APPEAL TO UNCLE SAM

Americans and Farmers, Who Advanced Funds for the Revolution, Are Anxious to Recover and Are Insisting on Their Claims Being One of the Conditions of Surrender.

New Orleans, March 10.—The collapse of the Estrada movement in Nicaragua has been expected for some weeks here because of financial weakness. Both the Madriz and the Estrada governments have been hard up for money from the beginning of the struggle, and success depended upon getting funds from the outside.

The Estrada revolution was financed, it is understood, largely by American interests in Bluefields, generally New Orleans concerns operating there. The war has lasted longer than was expected and these concerns have refused to put up any more. A loan was secured in New York, but when the revolutionary government defaulted on one of its notes in that city its credit was destroyed, and it was then considered that the revolution was hopeless, as it was impossible to get arms and ammunition.

Americans Want Assurance. The Americans and other foreigners who advanced the funds for the Estrada revolution are anxious to recover their money, and are insisting that one of the conditions of surrender shall be the recognition by the Madriz government of the debts contracted by Estrada.

If this is not conceded they will call on the United States to demand that the revolutionary government be recognized as having been de facto and that its debts are obligations of Nicaragua.

While the Estrada movement failed through the loss of credit, Madriz, who was equally hard put to at the time, is said to have recently received $500,000 from Mexico, sent by Francisco Castro, the Nicaraguan representative in Mexico City, and taken to Managua by Robert Bone.

It is charged that the money was contributed by the Mexican government, but it seems more likely that it was raised by sympathizers with Madriz, the Mexicans being friendly to his government. The fund came in at a most opportune time, enabling Madriz to equip the volunteers that rallied to his banner from Salvador and Honduras, and helping him to put up a far more effective fight than he had been doing.

Two Correspondents Banished. The two correspondents in Bluefields, Nicaragua, have been expelled from the country for the circulation of false rumors and reports of campaigns of the armies, is the report of several of the passengers on the steamship Dictator, of the Bluefields Steamship Line, which arrived to-day.

Gen. Estrada is said to have taken this action from the belief that attempts were made by the correspondents to bring influence to bear against the cause of the revolution through the reports of heavy losses and defeats.

APPEALS FOR AID.

Southern Industrial Educational Association Reports Progress.

Appeals for the promotion of industrial education among the white children in the Southern mountains and for the maintenance of schools were made in addresses at the annual meeting of the board of trustees and electors of the Southern Industrial Educational Association held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Chief Justice Seth Shepard, president of the association.

Reports of the president, the secretary, Mrs. J. Lowrie Bell, and representatives of the New York, Maryland, Virginia, and California auxiliaries were read.

Following an address by Thomas Nelson Page, in which he spoke on the necessity of bringing the work of the association before the public as a means of obtaining better results in raising funds for industrial work, a resolution was unanimously adopted in favor of selecting a press committee.

Dr. George Meyer, principal of the McKinley Manual Training School, Hepburn Washington, of New York; Maj. Charles J. Gordon, and Rev. Dr. May of Virginia, explained in addresses the peculiar conditions existing among the mountain people, illustrating the need of industrial work among the children.

Reports show that the receipts for this year exceeded last year's amount by $2,228, and that more than $10,000 had been donated to struggling industrial schools throughout the Southern States.

Mrs. Samuel Spencer, C. C. Calhoun, and Justice Seth Shepard were re-elected to the board of trustees, and Dr. George Meyer was elected a new member. After the meeting an informal reception was held.

Did Not Discuss Recordship.

Editor The Washington Herald: Your report in to-day's issue of the proceedings of the Southern Citizens' Association was grossly erroneous, touching my action in that meeting. I did not discuss the question of the appointment of a negro as recorder of deeds, as your report stated, my remarks having been confined to the street railway question and stationery supplies for the association. JOHN R. ADAMS. Washington, March 10.

Rites for E. F. Abner To-morrow.

Funeral services for E. F. Abner, who died Wednesday, will be held at the Parkwood Apartment House to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Paul A. Menzel officiating. Services will be private, and interment will be made in Prospect Hill Cemetery. The pallbearers have not yet been announced.
